Prayer Night

As we wrap up the Pray First series, you're invited to an interactive Prayer Night here on campus. We'll gather on Sunday, June 25 from 6:30-8:00 pm in the Harvest Rooms. Come pray, be prayed for, and be part of the conversation as we commit together to Pray First. For more info visit faccalgary.com/events.

RELEASED

When I was 22, I took our Edmonton Hispanic Mennonite church's youth group to Medicine Hat for a youth event. There, during a totally un-prophetic exercise (a cheesy 'name the friend that makes you feel special' type of thing!), the leader of the Red Deer group stood and announced that the Lord was calling me into songwriting, and that I was free to take up my pencil and paper, and write for Him. No one knew what to think. I was in wonder. My first song followed; a simple setting of the Lord's Prayer in Spanish. I continued to write.

When I wrote 'Lead On' in 2008, I knew something had changed. The 'training period' was ending. A year later, during a sermon, I saw myself in my mind just opening my hand and releasing my music from earthly desires, namely selfishness and fame. I produced my first album in 2015.

During a choir tour in the Philippines where my songs were featured, I connected with several missionaries; through them, doors to the Middle East opened. Amazingly, my music is now followed by hundreds of Muslims on Facebook. 'Hope's Creed,' a newly-formed worship collective which includes FAC's David Klob and Jessie Moore, just released the album 'Here I Am,' with lyric videos in English and Arabic. 'Samaritan Road – I Believe,' written for FAC, will go to radio in June. God's timing is marvelous – the release coincided with the beginning of Ramadan, a time of spiritual seeking. I am excited to see what God has in store, and would appreciate your prayers!

- Jayne Luy, Artist in Residence

Pick up 'Here I Am' in Cornerstone Marketplace (right here at FAC), or online (iTunes, Apple Music, Spotify). More info at jayneluy.com or hopescreedmusic.com.
