Looking back over the last twelve years of my life, the weeks I have spent at Camp Chamisall have clearly been some of the focal points of my spiritual growth and my learning to understand who God is. God never fails to show up at camp. I have had the privilege of seeing Him work in incredible ways from both perspectives through the ten times I attended as a camper and, more recently, the opportunities I have had to serve as a counsellor.

It was the way that God blessed me through counsellors that had become role models for me in years past that motivated me to try to have the same kind of impact on students as a staff member and it has been amazing to see God at work through that. It always amazes me how it seems that I receive so much more than I ever give when I volunteer. It has become clear to me how dearly important this ministry is to God through the way He always overwhelmingly equips and strengthens me to contribute to it despite my countless shortcomings. 1 Peter 4:11(b) says, "If anyone serves, he should do it with the strength God provides, so that in all things, God may be praised through Jesus Christ."

God is always glorified through Camp Chamisall and I have learned so much about His faithfulness in providing the strength required to impact young lives because he values those lives so highly.
