FAC PHOTO GROUP

When I was nine my dad brought me a basic 120 roll film camera and taught me the basics of photography. In my mid-teen years, a paying job in the school woodwork shop allowed me to buy my first 35 mm camera, and I started to develop film and make enlargements using a friend's darkroom. Over the years I've been fascinated by the design of cameras and have amassed a collection of old cameras that is on display.

I came to Christ in 1992 and have since been involved in helping record many events at several churches. A friend invited me to join the FAC Photo Group in the summer of 2013. I don't see myself as the leader – certainly not the best photographer – but we've managed to assemble a group that enjoy photography and working together in a strong team environment using our diverse skills. I believe God placed a deep desire in me to enjoy our times together but also to serve other ministries in the church, and we've done so for many events.

An exhibition will showcase the group's work over the summer on the theme of Power & Glory. What I've really enjoyed with this opportunity is how our group has creatively used the photographic medium to portray images of God's power & glory in so many different & unique ways!

I'm excited by FAC's vision for using art as another means of communicating our faith to each other but especially to those outside our walls. Longer term we hope to offer services at weddings and other family events where the expense is a factor. I think this would bring real blessing to God – portraying His glory by using His gifts to us as we reach beyond our building.
